ATR VERDICT: This race has gone to future Group-class horses in the shape of Hamza (2012) and So Beloved (2013) in the past and John Gosden looks to have a well handicapped type in CHESSMAN, an unlucky loser in a handicap that has worked out unbelievably well at Newbury on his latest start and he looks set to put the record straight having missed an intended run due to soft ground at York last week. Mojito was an expensive purchase who won his maiden nicely at Newcastle and looks fairly handicapped, while Silent Echo is another who merits respect after winning nicely on the all-weather at Lingfield earlier in the month.

Top Tip: CHESSMAN
Watch out for: MOJITO
