Long Handicap: War Glory 8 - 12

TIMEFORM VIEW: Representing the yard responsible for 2 of the last 3 winners of this race, FIRMAMENT should prove a tough nut to crack. He progressed throughout 2016 and looks set for another productive campaign judged on his reappearance effort in listed company at Ascot. Danzeno and Perfect Pasture both have a bit to prove at this trip, therefore War Glory and Right Touch may emerge as the main dangers.

TIMEFORM VIEW: FRONTIERSMAN looked every inch the proverbial pattern-class performer masquerading as a handicapper when winning at Newmarket on 1000 Guineas day. With this step up in trip unlikely to pose a problem, the 4-y-o can back that notion up by following up here. He may have most to fear from Dal Harraild, but Clever Cookie is always a threat on the Knavesmire and Seamour is a serious each-way player.

The obvious danger is unexposed handicap debutant St Malo, who brushed aside a subsequent winner at Newcastle on his final 2016 start. Dolphin Village and Sean O'Casey can do battle for minor honours. |   |         |   |          |                               |    |        |

| TIMEFORM VIEW: With Charlie Appleby's juveniles in fine form, ZAMAN is the obvious one to turn to in a field primarily made up of newcomers. Needless to say, confidence levels will be enhanced if the market speaks in his favour. Northern Law is bred to make a 2-y-o and merits close attention in the betting. Mashaheer is another likely-looking type and Queen's Sargent should build on his fairly promising debut. |   |   |            |                                   |   |

TIMEFORM VIEW: CRIMSON ROSETTE stepped up on her 2-y-o form when third at Newmarket, form which is working out well, and she makes plenty of appeal now faced with a stiffer test on this handicap debut. The Sky Is Blazing failed to measure up to expectations in the Lingfield Oaks Trial, but her maiden victory was full of promise and she has to be feared. Ice Dancing is another handicap debutante with potential.

| TIMEFORM VIEW: If reproducing his improved AW form back on turf, ROCK WARBLER could be the answer to an open-looking contest. Explain has to be feared following his Ripon win and Madroos is also high on the shortlist having acquitted himself well on debut for new connections last month. King of Dreams is on a workable mark and needs a second look, along with Alpine Dream, who represents last year's winning yard. |   |         |  |            |                                    |    |
