ATR VERDICT: Boitron is a worthy favourite after supplementing his debut gains here at Doncaster, and Good Fortune continued his forward momentum when proving to be in a different league to his Lingfield rivals. The Trader and Dutch Treat are progressing well, but ANTONIA DE VEGA made a sparkling introduction when accounting for a subsequent winner at Newmarket's July Festival, and Ralph Beckett's filly can show the boys a thing or two.

ATR VERDICT: Hamada has few miles on the clock and dips his toe into Group waters after making it four from his last four with a Newmarket handicap demolition job. Together with Duke Of Edinburgh third Walton Street, he gives Charlie Appleby a strong hand, while Algometer and Dal Harraild drop in trip after good efforts behind leading stayers, but the three-year-olds will be hard to hold out. Perfect Clarity is a big player on her Lingfield Oaks Trial success, but RAYMOND TUSK was impressive at Hamilton and a similar performance here might well book his St Leger ticket.

ATR VERDICT: MYSTIC FLIGHT may have relinquished his unbeaten record but lost little else in defeat at Chelmsford, and the return to turf can enable him to resume winning ways. Sea Fox backed up a Lingfield triumph when battling well at Newmarket last week, while the upwardly-mobile Rogue took his game to a new level on the July Course and a further 6lb rise may not be all that harsh. His stablemate Zalshah overcame trouble in-running to prevail at Ffos Las, and Mizaah is interesting having switched from Kevin Prendergast to Owen Burrows during his time on the sidelines.

ATR VERDICT: GUSTAV KLIMT hasn't quite lived up to the promise of his sparkling comeback success at Leopardstown back in the spring, but he has made the frame in three Group 1s, finished sixth in the 2000 Guineas and only went under by a couple of lengths in the Sussex Stakes. He is the class act of this line-up and can capitalise on the weight he receives from Librisa Breeze, who took a step back in the right direction in France. Sir Dancealot has developed into a high-quality 6f/7f performer but may not confirm his slight Lennox Stakes superiority over Breton Rock on the revised terms.

ATR VERDICT: SEXTANT was forced to endure pre-race problems, a tardy start and a troubled passage, yet still managed to fill the runner-up berth behind an experienced rival on his Nottingham debut. The son of Sea The Stars was left in the Great Voltigeur up until the six-day stage, so Sir Michael Stoute obviously likes what he sees, and he can break through here. Lady Baker was fourth in a Newcastle contest that is working out extremely well and is the primary danger ahead of Prabeni, who has been given time to get over a gelding operation following his fourth at Newmarket.

ATR VERDICT: Red Force One justified favouritism at Bath and Chester in the space of less than two weeks but a 5lb rise may find him out, whereas Come On Come On is up just 2lb for his commendable performance in defeat at Windsor and the application of cheekpieces might spark improvement. Even so, HIDDEN DEPTHS is potentially the best treated in the field because he beat all bar exciting prospect Willie John on his third qualifying run at Doncaster, and an initial mark of 81 may underestimate him.

ATR VERDICT: Dell' Arca's recent Uttoxeter success took him back up to a hurdling figure of 149, which would suggest he is comparatively well treated in this sphere, but this trip is sharp enough for him so he is reluctantly passed over in favour of OUTOFTHEQUESTION. Alan King's progressive gelding has won over 1m3f and an extended 1m5f at this circuit the last twice, so this distance could well be his optimum. Sophie Smith got a great tune out of Perla Blanca at Doncaster and she might be able to avenge her previous Ayr defeat at the hands of Luv U Whatever.
