ATR VERDICT: KATEBIRD merited her win at Nottingham last time out as it followed a string of good efforts in defeat and she remains thoroughly unexposed over these type of trips. John T Chance seemed to take a step forward in the first-time cheekpieces last time and he has to be thereabouts if they have the same effect today. Others to make the shortlist are Midnight Man, Speciale Di Giorno and Zamadance.

Top Tip: KATEBIRD

ATR VERDICT: GREAT COURT put in a fine performance when she was third to two rivals with experience in a decent event at Kempton earlier in the month and if she takes a step forward she will be very hard to beat. Kissofire and Sufi also showed ability on their respective debuts and are entitled to improve for the experience, while X Rated has to be shortlisted following his second at Leicester nine days ago.

ATR VERDICT: The step up to 7f should be a positive for PARLANCE, who was staying-on strongly when a close second over 6f at Kempton at the end of last month. Dream Of Joy did not get the clearest of runs last time and she looks to have a bright future ahead of her. Sea Tea Dea and Unzipped have also shown enough to suggest that they can go well, while any market support for Indian Blessing on debut would have to be noted.

ATR VERDICT: Beatbybeatbybeat and SHYPEN both bid for hat-tricks and they have to feature on the shortlist despite their 6lb penalties. Preference is for the latter because of her outstanding record on synthetic surfaces and she does look to be progressing very well at the moment. Arize would be hard to peg back if given an easy time up front, while Curious Fox may appreciate the return to the all-weather.

ATR VERDICT: ILZAM returned to form at this venue 10 days ago and remains on a decent handicap mark of 79. Marco Botti does well with his runners here and the three-year-old could take advantage of conditions to claim a second success in his last four outings. Le Roi Du Temps is an intriguing contender on his all-weather debut and the booking of Oisin Murphy for the first time is noteworthy, while Irish Optimism is in good form and also enters calculations.

ATR VERDICT: This could be a match between Satish and GOING UP, with marginal preference for the latter to make use of his scope for improvement. The three-year-old was well supported at Carlisle last time out but just failed to hold on. He can go one better now as Satish has already been given enough opportunities to strike for John Gosden. Lord Topper could prove best of the remainder after an improved showing at Kempton recently.

ATR VERDICT: Despite running well here on his last couple of starts, Cadland Lad always seems to find one too good and has been a beaten favourite on his last two starts. Wimboldsley has been consistent in recent outings and has to merit consideration, but preference goes to BURAUQ, who is in good heart and has a recent win to his name at Bath over a month ago.

ATR VERDICT: BEMUSEMENT has shown little in three maidens to date but drops back to 6f for the first time since her debut off a mark of 52 and can get off the mark on her handicap bow. Kenstone ran his best race to date when runner-up over C&D earlier this month and is a player on that evidence, while Decisive ran on the same card and was also runner-up in a similar contest.
