ATR VERDICT: Recent winners Walter Oneeightone and Panis Angelicus have to be considered once again, however, both have plenty more on their plate this time having been handed hikes in the weights. Therefore, it may be best to side with Graeme McPherson's RED ADMIRABLE, who remains on the same mark he was second off at Uttoxeter last time. The ground turned slightly against him that day so it was a good performance to be only five lengths adrift at the finish and he can be seen to much better effect now on a sounder surface. On Alberts Head often flatters to deceive, however, he is another to consider if able to put it all together.

Top Tip: RED ADMIRABLE (9)
