ATR VERDICT: Big Boots has finished outside the top two only once in four starts and with Mick Channon thriving with his two-year-olds, he has to be respected. However, CHAPELLI showed plenty of talent to overcome a bad draw and score on debut at Catterick and is backed to make it two from two here. Ventura Ocean is an interesting newcomer at a venue Richard Fahey enjoys success, while fellow Yorkshire-based handler Kevin Ryan gives a debut to Baldwin who is also considered.

ATR VERDICT: ACROSS DUBAI ended last season with a decent effort at Sandown behind Thundering Blue over this trip. He has since been gelded and remains unexposed with this only his sixth start. He represents William Haggas who is no stranger to success on the Knavesmire and this looks an ideal starting point for his season. Nathan progressed through handicaps last season and has the scope for further improvement, while Master Carpenter is well handicapped on his old form at a track he loves.

ATR VERDICT: One One Seven had a few of these rivals behind him when scoring at Beverley and has to be considered on his first start for Antony Brittain, while his former handler Amy Murphy saddles the improving Mazeo Lad, who is entitled to get involved. However, it may be best to stick with MR BUTTONS, who has made the podium on all three outings, winning at Southwell on debut, and looks set for a leading role once again.

ATR VERDICT: Hajjam finally rewarded connections with a win at Ayr after some fine efforts in defeat and he can prove competitive despite a 5lb rise in the weights. Magic City (first) and Imperial State (second) gave Mick Easterby a 1-2 over C&D at the last meeting here and should go close once again, but THE GREAT WALL gets the nod. He looks fairly treated off a mark of 77 and the booking of Silvestre De Sousa is a big positive. Juanito Chico and Sea Fox complete the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: Here Comes When has plenty in his favour, being a C&D scorer, top-rated in the field and entitled to strip fitter for a fifth-placed effort in Group 2 company at Sandown, but race tactics could see AROD upset the forecast favourite. The seven-year-old, a Group 3 scorer in his pomp, produced his best performance since joining David Simcock's team when making all in this company at Windsor last month and, from stall one, he can grab an early lead and grind it out from the front once more. Sovereign Debt might not be the force of old but looks best of the remaining trio.

ATR VERDICT: The thriving Sandra's Secret has been allowed uncontested leads under Silvestre De Sousa at Ripon the last twice but she may not find things fall so kindly here with the speedy CARLTON FRANKIE in opposition. Mick Easterby's four-year-old underwent wind surgery earlier in the year and looked like she was ready to make up for lost time with an impressive Redcar victory latest. Hat-trick seeker Maid In India rates best of the rest.

ATR VERDICT: ZEELANDER lost little in defeat when thwarted by a neck by the enterprisingly-ridden Reverend Jacobs over C&D last time and although Roger Varian's charge has been raised 8lb without winning, he finished well clear of the remainder last time, is evidently still improving and is taken to find the improvement needed to gain compensation. Penalised Carlisle winner Zihaam has place claims and the returning Dominada is worth a market check.
