ATR VERDICT: John Quinn landed this event last year and relies on newcomer Balance Of Power this time, while Swiss Connection is another debutant to note coming from a yard that can ready one first time. LIBERATION DAY only lost out to one with prior experience at Leicester last time and can put that experience to good use here. The form of that maiden usually works out well, and Tom Dascombe's charge can account for the likes of Absolute Dream and Hafeet Alain.

ATR VERDICT: INDIAN VISION was a well-backed winner over course and distance four weeks ago and a 6lb rise might not be enough to prevent a follow up. The booking of Fran Norton is a positive one, and a prominent ride can be expected on the four-year-old. Breakwater Bay ran better than his finishing position of fifth suggested at Wetherby last time, while Midnight Warrior returned to form at Thirsk recently and a decent performance can be anticipated.

ATR VERDICT: TAN ARABIQ returned to form when third at Thirk last time out and looks to have more to offer over this stamina-sapping trip for Michael Appleby. Callum Rodriguez's 3lb claim makes life easier, and the five-year-old can end a winless run which stretches back to December. Icefall takes a big drop in class after struggling at Pontefract last time, while The Resdev Way was poor last time but his previous Catterick second was a step in the right direction.

ATR VERDICT: HORSTED KEYNES probably needed his first start of the season at Chelmsford when sixth to Qaffaal and David Simcock's gelding is entitled to come forward from that outing and is 2lb lower than his last winning mark. Mickey was runner-up to a progressive type in Summerghand at Haydock a fortnight ago and the step back up to 7f should pose no issue, while the consistent Hajjam completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: EEH BAH GUM has been in excellent form having won his last three starts, the first of those coming over C&D, and this progressive son of Dandy Man looks to have more to offer going for the four-timer. Excellently Poised was runner-up on his return behind Requito Dawn at Catterick and is entitled to take a step forward from that outing here, while Quayside is respected on his Haydock success last time.

ATR VERDICT: ACRUX struggled in handicap company last time out but his previous back-to-back victories in sellers suggests that he can make his presence felt this afternoon. Lexington Times was very disappointing last time but he is favoured at these weights and he did go well in a Doncaster handicap in May. God Willing and Al Khan should also be in the mix.

ATR VERDICT: WORSHIP has been highly tried since making a winning debut last December, including when finishing eighth in the 1000 Guineas, and she is clearly the one to beat today. Aljady won over C&D on his debut last year and he should improve with age, while Boundary Lane is another proven winner who has to be considered in a race of this nature.

ATR VERDICT: UNDERCOVER BROTHER won well at Nottingham earlier in the month and that form has been boosted with the second and third winning since. Based on that evidence a 4lb rise in the ratings may vastly underestimate the three-year-old gelding. Revenge has hit the crossbar on a couple of occasions since his win in April and he may improve for a first-time pair of cheekpieces. Laith Alareen and Me Before You should also be noted.
