ATR VERDICT: Horatio Star improved when stepped up to this distance at Catterick last time and looks one of the leading contenders. However, preference is for WOHILEH, who may have come unstuck at Chelmsford last time but can bounce back now returned to the trip she was only beaten half a length over at Kempton in September. The well-bred Referee is expected to build on his Kempton debut when greenness hindered his chances at the finish, while it will be interesting to see if Archie Watson can extract any improvement from the $420,000 Galileo filly Rare, who has been a little underwhelming in her races so far while in the care of Sir Michael Stoute.

Top Tip: WOHILEH (10)

Watch out for: HORATIO STAR (3)
