ATR VERDICT: SEPRANI was last seen finishing fourth over C&D in September when catching the eye and she has since moved from Marco Botti to Amy Murphy which could potentially yield further improvement. Curious Fox was no match for Turanga Leela at Wolverhampton last month but should be competitive once again, while Indian Pursuit looks best of the remainder having looked to improve back on the all-weather at Newcastle earlier this month.

ATR VERDICT: RAHEEB makes plenty of appeal on pedigree having cost 180,000gns at the Tattersalls December foals sale in 2016 and being a half-sister to Group 3 winner Extortionist. Her trainer Owen Burrows is more than capable of readying one first time out and the daughter of Kodiak looks the one to side with. Orange Blossom has been highly tried throughout this season and could benefit from a switch to the all-weather, while Storm Blitz is considered on his debut for a trainer who has a fine record with his sprinters.

Top Tip: RAHEEB (7)

ATR VERDICT: SUN HAT returned after a 10-month absence to get off the mark at the second time of asking at Newcastle at the beginning of last month before following up a few weeks later at Wolverhampton. She makes her handicap debut off a mark of 78 and has first-time cheekpieces to elicit further improvement against more experienced rivals. Rebel Assault was runner-up last time at Catterick when unable to match Parys Mountain and can prove competitive along with Itsakindamagic, who makes his debut for Ismail Mohammed.

ATR VERDICT: Richard Hughes is 4-11 in the last fortnight and UNCLE JERRY has really boosted that record with consecutive victories on the all-weather. The two-year-old looks progressive enough to defy a 6lb penalty and the blinkers that have worked so well the last twice remain fitted here. James Fanshawe won this race last year and his Gaslight looks open to much improvement back on Polytrack, while Denis The Diva has shown steady improvement in his three starts to date and could be feasibly treated off a mark of 73.

ATR VERDICT: NASSYA has been slightly disappointing in her career so far, but this is an excellent chance for her to shed the maiden tag at the sixth time of asking and a mark of 74 is one that she can win off. Heeyaam has shown enough to win one of these but her trainer has had a quiet spell over the last few months, while Lacustre and Cuillin both need to improve in order to be competitive in such a contest.

ATR VERDICT: Horatio Star improved when stepped up to this distance at Catterick last time and looks one of the leading contenders. However, preference is for WOHILEH, who may have come unstuck at Chelmsford last time but can bounce back now returned to the trip she was only beaten half a length over at Kempton in September. The well-bred Referee is expected to build on his Kempton debut when greenness hindered his chances at the finish, while it will be interesting to see if Archie Watson can extract any improvement from the $420,000 Galileo filly Rare, who has been a little underwhelming in her races so far while in the care of Sir Michael Stoute.

ATR VERDICT: BROUGHTON EXCELS wasn't beaten far in his bid to complete a double at Kempton and can return to winning ways here off just a 1lb higher mark with Paddy Bradley in the saddle removing 3lb. It is interesting that Adam McNamara links up with course and distance winner Spirit Of Zebedee, who has been at his consistent best of late, while Drop Kick Murphi has made the podium the last twice, including over track and trip in September, and is another who makes appeal.

Top Tip: BROUGHTON EXCELS (2)
