ATR VERDICT: It is interesting that Ruby Walsh has sided with the filly Fenta Des Obeaux, who only got as far as the first hurdle on her debut for Willie Mullins here on New Year's Eve, but she was a winner in France and could possess plenty of ability. However, similar comments apply to stablemate FARID, who was perhaps in need of the run when sent off an odds-on favourite at Fairyhouse, eventually finishing third after tiring quickly on the run in. He showed lots of likeable attributes, including jumping fluently, and if settling better in the early stages, he could come home best of the Mullins trio on show, with Leopardstown fourth Andalusia also engaged. Christopher Robin was a decent performer on the Flat and the once 400,000gns yearling is interesting now hurdling for Joseph O'Brien, with Ingenuity potentially the best of Gordon Elliott's three representatives.

Top Tip: FARID (4)

ATR VERDICT: PRINCESS MAHLER was running well for jockey Ambrose McCurtin when falling two out as they were just about to launch their challenge at Limerick over Christmas, but the pair get the chance to make amends here off just a 2lb higher mark. Free Ranger is interesting on his handicap debut following some useful performance in novice and maiden contests, while Divin Desir caught the eye when finishing fourth at a big price over course and distance on New Year's Eve and could build on that much improved showing here.

ATR VERDICT: DALLAS DES PICTONS was a two-time winner in France and has the chance to get off the mark over hurdles here stepping up in trip following a useful second at Leopardstown on Boxing Day. Lighthouse Warrior will have appreciated his Cork comeback after a year off the track and has some useful form in the book, while dual bumper winner The Red Menace wouldn't have to find too much improvement to get involved having relished the extra distance over this trip at Leopardstown during their Christmas Festival.

ATR VERDICT: Gordon Elliott representative BLACK TEARS has been off the track since finishing runner-up in the Grade 3 bumper here in April and is expected to show up well now debuting over timber. Elfile has won on the level in France and is an interesting recruit to the Willie Mullins team now making her NH bow. The pick of the remainder may be Sunrise Lady, who steps up in trip after finishing an outpaced fifth over 2m at Naas last month.

ATR VERDICT: Distance winner WHATSINTHECORNER picked up minor money over fences here over 2m two weeks ago and is expected to remain competitive now competing off a 3lb lower hurdles perch. British Art was touched off by just a neck over the extended 2m3f at Clonmel on Thursday and could put up plenty of resistance off the same mark. The pick of the remainder may be Gliondar Mo Chroi, who returned to form when placed over 2m5f at Limerick last month.

Top Tip: WHATSINTHECORNER (1)

Watch out for: BRITISH ART (6)

ATR VERDICT: LADY WRITER arguably put in a career best when filling third place in maiden hurdle late last month and that performance suggests that she can win a race of this nature off her current mark. Capture The Drama ran well enough over fences last time out and he looks to exploit a lower hurdles mark today. Others to consider are Cher Why Not and Holy Motivation.

ATR VERDICT: FASOLA TIDO put in a promising performance when finishing second on her debut at Fairyhouse last month and she could be hard to beat with that experience under her belt. The Caddy Rose has already placed in four bumpers and she should go well once again, although she is open to less improvement than the selection. Mystical Mover ran well in a point-to-point in May 2017 and she has to be respected given the yard she represents.
