ATR VERDICT: BAHAMA MOON remains open to improvement over hurdles and has run well in all of his previous starts so far this season. The seven-year-old is now on a career-high mark but should remain competitive. Night Of Glory makes his debut for new connections following his 22,000gns transfer in October and he makes plenty of appeal. Others to note are Suggestion, Canny Style and Georgian Firebird.

ATR VERDICT: JERRYSTACK confirmed that his 50/1 victory at Bangor two starts ago was not a fluke by chasing home an unbeaten rival in Grade 2 company at Ascot over the Christmas period. A reproduction of that performance today would give the seven-year-old a very good chance of success. Le Breuil has run well in some competitive races this season and should be in the mix once again, while Crucial Role looks the pick of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: MISTER FISHER is penalised for his victory at Kempton on Boxing Day but sets the form standard on that effort, and is the tentative selection ahead of Bright Forecast, who has won both starts over timber to date and could put up plenty of resistance in receipt of 3lb from the favourite. Idee De Garde is having his second start since undergoing wind surgery and likely has further improvement in the pipeline too.

ATR VERDICT: SILVER STREAK has progressed through the handicap ranks over the last three seasons and took his form to the next level when second behind Brain Power in the International Hurdle last time (Western Ryder third). This contest lacks the strength of that Cheltenham assignment and a repeat performance may well suffice. Mohaayed had Western Ryder back in third when returning to winning ways in a Grade 3 handicap at Ascot last month but he is 4lb worse off with that rival on these terms.

Long Handicap: Ballyarthur 10 - 1, Ballydine 9 - 13

ATR VERDICT: OTAGO TRAIL is just 2lb higher than when chasing home Bristol De Mai in this in 2017 and proved he still retained ability when placing in Newcastle's Rehearsal Chase earlier in the season and then running well at Ascot recently. Hugh Nugent removes a handy 7lb and the stable couldn't be in any better form. Colin Tizzard took this contest last season and relies on the returning Robinsfirth this time around, who hasn't been seen since scoring at Cheltenham in December 2017, while Captain Redbeard, a silver medallist off the same mark in this last term, is foolish to rule out at this venue. Only a length separated Daklondike and Ballyarthur when they were first and second here in December and can't be ignored, while Red Infantry has been in good order in staying contests this season, but may need an even bigger test of stamina than this distance offers.

ATR VERDICT: Admiral's Secret was just over two lengths ahead of DICOSIMO when scoring at Wincanton on Boxing Day but it would be no surprise if Warren Greatrex's front-running eight-year-old can turn the tables meeting his rival on 6lb better terms today. Bangor scorer Vengeur De Guye requires plenty of respect off a 5lb higher rating, while Ubaltique merits consideration having won this race for the past three seasons.

ATR VERDICT: The form of HIGHLAND HUNTER's two victories over hurdles this season looks strong and the highly promising novice is entitled to improve once again for a step up to three miles, and for switching to handicap company. Teescomponents Lad won with a bit to spare at Wetherby on Boxing Day so a 6lb rise may not be the harshest burden, while Chepstow winner Django Django, Silva Eclipse and Courtown Oscar are others who could get involved.

Top Tip: HIGHLAND HUNTER (3)
