ATR VERDICT: The form of YOUNG WOLF's Hereford third looks strong, with the two horses ahead of him performing well since, and this could be the perfect opportunity for Neon Wolf's brother to open his hurdling account. Enfin Phil was a winner in France and produced an encouraging run at Wetherby for third, with Captain Moirette fourth. Zoffany Bay has the talented Danny McMenamin in the saddle and shouldn't be ignored, while market support for Sebastian's Wish must be respected on his jumping bow.

Long Handicap: Arboretum 9 - 8

ATR VERDICT: BEST TO COME bumped into a couple of progressive rivals when hitting the bar the last twice but having shown much better form since joining Keith Dalglish, he can get off the mark now tried over the larger obstacles. Away For Slates enjoyed the switch to fences when second at Plumpton earlier this month and could build on that, while Goodthyneaway has to be considered on his first run since wind surgery for a top set-up.

Top Tip: BEST TO COME (1)

ATR VERDICT: NINEPOINTSIXTHREE was a whopping 24 lengths clear of Flowery when bringing an end to that one's hat-trick bid at Sedgefield and despite a 10lb rise, Sam England's nine-year-old could be hard to stop if getting his own way in front for a yard enjoying a best-ever season. Always Resolute got back to winning ways in useful company at Doncaster and the C&D scorer has to be respected, while Indian Opera found a Doncaster Grade 2 much too hot and will appreciate going handicapping.

ATR VERDICT: REVE improved for better ground when putting in a career-best second over hurdles at Ludlow, and looks ready to open his account in this sphere in what appears to be a moderate contest. Lady Camelot had some solid form when trained in Ireland and could improve for the switch to Phil Kirby's North Yorkshire base, while Moayadd might pick up the pieces for third spot.

ATR VERDICT: STRAIDNAHANNA is four from five here and put in a solid enough performance at Newcastle three weeks ago when fourth in a similar sort of affair. The bold front-runner handles varying ground, and has been dropped 1lb for his latest exertions. Lovely Job wears a visor for the first time and should find this easier than recent assignments, while Little Bruce drops in trip after an excellent second to Eider Chase fancy Sharp Response in the North Yorkshire Grand National.

ATR VERDICT: The form of I'M WISER NOW's Wetherby third has worked out well, with the fourth and fifth both winning since, and Fergal O'Brien's charge can make it third-time lucky. This looks a nice opening for the five-year-old and he can account for L'Air Du Vent, who is related to some nice types and cost 70,000 euros in 2017. Floating Rock warrants respect for a shrewd trainer, with Richard Johnson booked to do the steering.
