ATR VERDICT: MURRAY RIVER impressed when opening his account at Lingfield on his seasonal debut last time and John Gosden's Australia gelding could have plenty more to come here. It may be best ignoring Qarasu's Newmarket effort last month and he could have a part to play if repeating the best of his novice heroics, while Caravan Of Hope was denied by only a short head last time out and could enjoy the switch to the handicap ranks.

Top Tip: MURRAY RIVER (6)

ATR VERDICT: Mark Johnston has a strong hand here with the unbeaten Thunderous and Frankel's Storm, who thrived on heavy ground when opening her account at Carlisle and comes into calculations if there is any further easing in the ground. Richard Hannon won this last year and his Ascot second Sun Power, who is proven in Listed company, is the pick of his pair. However, it may be worth siding with JUAN ELCANO, who nearly made it two from two in the Group 2 Superlative Stakes last time and could be the class act in this field.

Top Tip: JUAN ELCANO (1)

ATR VERDICT: MORANDO has just fallen short of the mark in Group 1 and Group 2 contests of late, but the Ormonde Stakes winner, who enjoys cut in the ground, could get back to his best at this level at a course he has run well at in the past. Sextant is looking for a hat-trick and has been a leading performer in handicaps this season, while Sameem is another who has been tasting success of late, securing a Listed victory at Hamilton when last sighted.

ATR VERDICT: Providing the ground doesn't get too deep, this could be the perfect opportunity for RIPP ORF to get back on track and the popular five-year-old is 1lb lower than when staying on for fourth in a hot Ascot handicap last time. George William has returned in good order this term and has the chance to better his track and trip second last month, while Graphite Storm was on the scoresheet at Newmarket last time and a 3lb rise doesn't rule out a follow up. The front-running Love Dreams is another to note.

8 (2)		7-23716	SPACE TRAVELLER 18 D b c Bated Breath - Sky Crystal	3 9 - 1	D Tudhope R A Fahey	113

ATR VERDICT: Sir Dancealot accounted for Hey Gaman in the Lennox at Goodwood last month, but that form isn't sure to be confirmed at this track and it wouldn't be a surprise if it was actually reversed. Donjuan Triumphant and Librisa Breeze would both appreciate any further rainfall, but this can go the way of John Quinn's SAFE VOYAGE. Third behind Hey Gaman and recent French Group 1 winner Romanised at the Curragh four weeks ago, he remains on the upgrade and could prove difficult to beat.

ATR VERDICT: Arabist held a Group 2 entry earlier in the year and showed promise on his debut here over a shorter trip when fifth of 19 in May for John Gosden. High Commissioner is more exposed but finished second in that same maiden, while a chance can be taken on ADONIJAH after his Newmarket second three weeks ago on debut. Entered in the St Leger next month, he would need to be landing this prize to justify his participation in that event.

ATR VERDICT: RITCHIE VALENS proved successful on his second start after being gelded over C&D 11 days ago and could be worth following after that battling display. A 4lb rise doesn't appear too harsh, and the booking of Andrea Atzeni is a positive one for a horse who likes to challenge late in the day. Ocala has won two of her last four races, while Pour Me A Drink showed his true colours when second behind a potentially nice type at Sandown 63 days ago.

ATR VERDICT: RESTIVE makes his stable debut for Mick Appleby and it could be a winning one for a trainer who does so well with new recruits. Just 3lb higher than his last success, the six-year-old has the services of Serena Brotherton on board, who has won this race a remarkable five times in the last 10 years. Breathable arrives on a hat-trick after victories at Pontefract and Carlisle, while Cry Wolf would make some appeal if the ground dried up.
