TIMEFORM VIEW: QARASU was an excellent third behind the now 117-rated Pondus on his reappearance at Nottingham before readily getting off the mark at Windsor so, while he was below form on quicker ground last time, there's every chance he can get back on track from a potentially lenient mark with the forecast rain in his favour. Sputnik Planum will also relish conditions and Murray River has some potential.

TIMEFORM VIEW: JUAN ELCANO sets a good standard on his length defeat in the Superlative Stakes and will probably emerge as the best horse from that Group 2. He could take plenty of beating down in grade now. There could be more to come from Sun Power, while Pyledriver impressed when winning on debut at Salisbury, and Mark Johnston has a promising pair in Thunderous and Frankel's Storm.

TIMEFORM VIEW: It would be fair to say that LANDA BEACH has proved somewhat disappointing so far this season, given the promise of his 2-y-o debut success here in October when accounting for several subsequent winners in a 15-runner novice. However, he's worth another chance in the hope that the first-time cheekpieces have an uplifting effect. Rake's Progress is feared most ahead of Nabhan and Breathable.
