ATR VERDICT: BLUE N YELLOW might not have too much in hand off his mark of 102, but he finished behind a couple of potentially decent rivals at Worcester last time and could go close here if given a positive ride by Jonathan Burke. The six-year-old came from miles back to claim third 23 days ago and could have too much staying power for these rivals. Kiruna Peak might do better now wearing first-time cheekpieces, while Head Lad is also noted.

ATR VERDICT: ARCADIAN SEA finished second on handicap debut at Market Rasen 76 days ago and could take a big step forward for trainer Sarah Humphrey. The five-year-old showed potential at the same venue prior to that and connections look to have found the key to him now. Turnbury was fifth on the Flat at Windsor when last seen and is interesting back in this sphere, while Glendun is another name to take seriously.

ATR VERDICT: PRECIOUS BOUNTY showed promise on his chasing debut at Ffos Las in May, finishing second under a prominent ride, and could strike after a break dropped slightly in distance. Philip Hobbs' charge has more to offer in this sphere at the age of just five and has more scope than Included, who still needs to prove that she is as good in this sphere as she was over hurdles. Cesar Du Gouet has had a wind operation and warrants respect.

ATR VERDICT: KENTFORD HEIRESS wasn't disgraced in her attempt to make it three on the bounce when third in a good handicap at Newton Abbot in June. She could have further progression to come stepping up in trip and could prove too strong for Poker School, who is of interest tackling this distance for the first time on a sharp track. The consistent Pink Eyed Pedro also merits respect after his hat-trick bid was only foiled by one horse last time.

ATR VERDICT: KAHDIAN was pulled up on his latest start over fences here last month but the return to hurdles could see Olly Murphy's gelding return to winning form. He had been consistent over the past couple of months prior to that performance and, on those efforts, gets the vote. Sadma has struggled on his past couple of outings over fences but could land a blow back over timber, while Ladies Dancing could be in the mix on the form of his Newton Abbot win two outings ago.

ATR VERDICT: VELVET COGNAC has been knocking on the door under Rules and in points recently and this appears to be an ideal opportunity for the veteran to get off the mark. High Hatton has to be respected on his debut for Christian Williams having won twice between the flags earlier in the year, while the shortlist is completed by Master Sunrise and Cruising Bye.

ATR VERDICT: ONEOFTHESENIGHTS is lightly raced for a horse of her age but the daughter of Milan remains unbeaten, and that includes decisive victories at Market Rasen and Ludlow in recent months. The second of those wins proves that she can defy a penalty and she remains open to further improvement. That said, Beau Sancy should give her a race based on his recent good form over fences and he does get 5lb from the selection.

ATR VERDICT: ARCTIC VALLEY was an impressive winner on his Rules debut at Worcester last month and the five-year-old is the one to beat today, despite having to carry a 7lb penalty for that success. Took The Lot is closely related to plenty of winners and he has to be noted on his racecourse debut, while similar comments also apply to Socks and Myspacenotyours.
