Timeform says:
- No 1: Has been catching the eye over hurdles and got the job done in emphatic fashion under this rider at Market Rasen (16.6f, soft) last week. Remains capable of better and can defy a 7 lb penalty. ★★★★★ (Forecast 2.62)
- No 2: Fair hurdler. Yet to build on his promising start for connections last season, but it's still early days and should come on for his reappearance. ★★★★★ (Forecast 9.00)
- No 3: Dual bumper winner at the start of 2018. Disappointing first 2 starts in handicap hurdles but got career back on track when third at Hereford (16.2f) on reappearance. First-time cheekpieces. ★★★★☆ (Forecast 7.00)
- No 4: Thrived in 2017/18, winning 4 times. Lightly raced since but bounced back to his very best with a recent run behind him when runner-up at Lingfield (19.5f, heavy) last week. Should go well again. ★★★☆☆ (Forecast 5.00)
- No 5:in top form at present, making the most of a good opportunity to land 4-runner seller at this venue (20.5f, soft) last week. Will find life tougher back in handicap company, though. ★★★★☆ (Forecast 7.50)
- No 6: Patchy record in this sphere, but won twice off higher marks during the spring and took a step back in the right direction at Musselburgh last time. ★★★☆☆ (Forecast 13.00)
TIMEFORM VIEW: LITTLE RORY MAC finally got the job done over hurdles at Market Rasen last week after a number of eye catching efforts, and looks capable of following up under a penalty. The Game Is A Foot bounced back to his best when runner-up at Lingfield recently and should ensure the selection doesn't have things all his own way.

Timeform 1-2-3:
1: LITTLE RORY MAC (1)
2: THE GAME IS A FOOT (4)
3: SEA STORY (3)
