ATR VERDICT: No less than three recent winners out to supplement their gains. GONE RACING appreciated the good ground in Tramore last month to grab his first career success. He has to be tempting around a similar track, and indeed, a venue where his trainer Mark McNiff knows what is required to win at. At the time of writing, in-form McNiff has had five victories in the last three weeks. Ballinaboola Steel makes a quick reappearance after landing the spoils over three miles in Wexford on Wednesday, in first-time cheekpieces which are kept on. The 5lbs penalty is more than offset by the booking of 7lb-claimer Shane Fenelon. He is clearly in rude health, but this is a markedly different trip. Misty Mountain had reportedly been working well before scoring by six lengths at Sligo on Wednesday, and is feared under the same penalty. Deauville Society was gambled-on before finishing second to an easy winner at Cork. Her form indicates that she would welcome rain which isn't forecast. Gotta Getaway was beaten half a length into second by Gone Racing at Tramore, and is respected off 2lbs higher.

Top Tip: GONE RACING (3)

Watch out for: BALINABOOLA STEEL (1)
