ATR VERDICT: ULTRA PRIDE has an each-way chance from gate one. Sheila Lavery's horse faced a tough task when attempting to make all over an extended mile on soft ground at Galway. Once headed approaching the straight, his chance had gone but his previous two runs over a mile and a half bring him into contention. He was third in Fairyhouse and fourth in Leopardstown and both races have been franked by horses that finished in front of him. His sole victory came over this mile and a quarter trip at the Curragh last summer. Lightning Amber avails of Mikey Sheehy's 7lb claim which puts her on a very appealing mark. She landed her fillies' maiden at this venue, and her sixth behind Patrick Sarsfield in a handicap here in June reads better all the time. The Dutch Art filly didn't run badly at all in Galway for fifth after blowing her chance with a tardy start. She is likely to take advantage of her mark sooner rather than later. Drakensberg's fifth at this track to subsequent Ulster Derby winner Elizabethofaragon puts him in the mix, while Estepona Sun is another with claims.

Top Tip: ULTRA PRIDE (13)

Watch out for: LIGHTNING AMBER (2)
