TIMEFORM VIEW: ANGEL PALM couldn't justify strong market support when fourth on debut over C&D back in June, but is bound to improve with that under her belt and gets the vote to score at the second time of asking under Colin Keane, having his first ride since Glorious Goodwood. Friendly rates as the biggest threat after shaping as if better for the run on debut, ahead of Harannnda.

TIMEFORM VIEW: DARK PINE and Agitare were both turned over at short odds last time but they were far from discredited and the first-named had very little go his way, so he's marginally preferred in a race where they're comfortably ahead of the others in terms of what's been achieved to this point.

TIMEFORM VIEW: DAWN PATROL needed more encouragement than may have been expected to shed the maiden tag at Naas, but there is more to come from the Irish Derby-third over this sort of trip and he can strike again. Emperor Of The Sun rates the chief threat after producing another career best when second in a first-time hood at Galway last time. Pista is another good prospect to consider.
