ATR VERDICT: Lexington Liberty cost 50,000 euros as a yearling and is a full-sister to a two-year-old winner over this distance, so it wouldn't be a surprise if she knew her job under Ryan Moore on debut. Lockdown Latchico has placed twice for Richard Hughes and could find a minor event to win soon, but this can go the way of Harry Dunlop's SEA OF CHARM. Fourth at Wolverhampton behind a winner who has since followed up under a penalty, that form looks strong and Tom Marquand is a positive jockey booking.

Top Tip: SEA OF CHARM (12)

ATR VERDICT: $800,000 yearling SECRET PROTECTOR wasn't beaten far on debut in an above-average C&D contest earlier this month and could get off the mark here for Godolphin. The War Front colt stayed on strongly there and should be much wiser for the experience. Marrakech Moon is related to plenty of winners and his handler often introduces nice types on synthetic surfaces at this time of year, while fellow newcomer Mardoof has the right sort of pedigree for Polytrack and is worthy of a market check.

Top Tip: SECRET PROTECTOR (7)

11 (5)		68	UP BEFORE DAWN (IRE) 12 ch f Buratino - Up At Dawn	2 9 - 0	Thomas Greatrex (3) Paul George	-

ATR VERDICT: UNDERWATER ATTACK sets a fair form standard after finding only the Convivial runner-up too hot to handle on debut at Leicester earlier this month and might go one better here. A half-brother to Group 1 winner Royal Marine, the Dawn Approach colt can take this before a potentially profitable winter in Dubai for Saeed bin Suroor. Thunder Sun failed to beat anything home on debut 62 days ago but is bred to do much better given time, while Sir Edward Elgar cost 82,000gns as a yearling and appeals most of the debutants on paper.

Top Tip: UNDERWATER ATTACK (8)

ATR VERDICT: PERFECT INCH produced a career best when runner-up at Ascot earlier in the month and the drop back into a novice event appears the right move for Charlie Fellowes' filly as she bids to shed the maiden tag. Tawreed is better judged on her third on debut at Yarmouth in July having appeared to go wrong at Pontefract on her subsequent outing, while others to note include Aroha and Aim For The Stars.

ATR VERDICT: PIONEERING won well at Lingfield in an apprentice handicap last week and the six-year-old is able to race off the exact same mark with Rhys Clutterbuck taking off 7lb once again. Cashel ran on to grab third here over 7f on his latest start and has to enter the reckoning along with recent Wolverhampton scorer Tidal Racer, who appears capable of handling a 3lb rise.

ATR VERDICT: LUNCIES went up 5lb for his handicap debut success at Haydock, having bounced back from his effort in Listed company at Newmarket behind Mishriff, and Simon & Ed Crisford's gelding is capable of further progression with the extra furlong unlikely to pose any issue. Star Of Wins will find this an easier task than what he encountered at Yarmouth last week behind Emissary, who had benefited from the application of a visor, and he can enter the reckoning along with Amir Kabir, a recent winner at Newmarket.

ATR VERDICT: SAEER turned in an improved performance when third at Chester last time and is expected to better that effort now moving into handicap company and stepping up to 1m4f for the first time. There could also be a big run on the cards from recent Lingfield second O'reilly's Pass, while Bealach would be no surprise winner and Magic Shuffle should be thereabouts.

ATR VERDICT: LORDSBRIDGE BOY knuckled down well to score by a head over 5f at Salisbury last time and, also proven over C&D, Dean Ivory's charge is expected to defy a 3lb rise and follow up. Good Earth has been eased 1lb for finishing third over this trip at Salisbury last time and has strong place claims. Others to bear in mind are Under Curfew, who sports first-time blinkers, and recent Sandown third Lorna Cole.

Top Tip: LORDSBRIDGE BOY (2)

Watch out for: GOOD EARTH (6)
