ATR VERDICT: William Haggas won the second division of this contest last year and he is triple-handed with Tarhib, Diamond Drop and Cholmondeley today. All three are interesting and worthy of a market check at least, but a chance is taken on HOPEFULLY DARLING for John Gosden, who won division one 12 months ago. The Frankel filly is certainly bred to have plenty of ability, being a full-sister to multiple Group 1 winner Cracksman, and it will be disappointing if she isn't there or thereabouts. Mobadra and Mused are other names to note.

Top Tip: HOPEFULLY DARLING (6)

Watch out for: TARHIB (9)

ATR VERDICT: Like in the opener, William Haggas fires three bullets at this novice contest, and it could be his SECRET HAUNT who comes out on top. The Queen's representative is a full-sister to Listed scorer Diploma, who also won as a juvenile on the July course here over this trip, and the booking of Ryan Moore catches the eye. Her stable companions Sweet Believer and Lochnaver also warrant plenty of respect, while Copper Queen and Ghumama both bring solid form to the table.

ATR VERDICT: Wolverhampton scorer SIDE SHOT has improved with each start in novice company and, providing he handles forecast soft conditions, John Gosden's charge ought to play a leading role on his nursery debut. Mojandil was narrowly beaten over 1m2f at Bath last time and that ability to stay further should stand him in good stead today, while Reams Of Love and Branwell are others to consider on their first foray into handicap company.

ATR VERDICT: If TURNTABLE can recapture something like his best form in a first-time hood, he will go very close. The Pivotal gelding has dropped to a mark just 3lb higher than when he secured back-to-back victories here in July and, relatively lightly raced for his age, he ticks plenty of boxes and might be on offer at a generous price. Galactic Glow has been knocking hard on the door at Yarmouth and must be respected getting a weight-for-age allowance, while Latent Heat is another to note.

ATR VERDICT: Mystery Angel has experience on her side and ran on well for third in the Zetland over 10 furlongs here earlier in the month. That is good form, but over this trip at Pontefract last time she shaped as though she wanted further, despite only narrowly losing out in Listed company. It could be that she finds one or two too sharp for her over a mile and the less-exposed ALBA ROSE might appreciate going up in distance after she shaped with promise in the Group 2 Rockfel Stakes over 7f, staying on at the one pace for third. Teodolina is another to take seriously, likewise the unbeaten Zeyaadah, who beat Mystery Angel on debut at Chelmsford and has since won easily at Beverley under a penalty.

ATR VERDICT: This is all about HEADMAN, a dual Group 2 winner last year who hasn't been seen since disappointing on his reappearance in the Prices Of Wales's Stakes at Royal Ascot in June. Not beaten far when fifth of eight in the Irish Champion Stakes behind Magical last season, Roger Charlton's inmate looks extremely well treated in such company and won't need to run right up to his rating of 115 to win. If he did, it would take a career-best performance for the 109-rated Marie's Diamond to stop him giving him 3lb, although Mark Johnston's colt is put forward as the main danger dropping into Listed company for the first time since winning easily here in June. His stablemate Freyja is progressive and will go on the ground, while Be More has plenty to find on official figures but should run her usual honest race. Air Pilot was well beaten in this 12 months ago but is another who will enjoy the underfoot conditions.

ATR VERDICT: ZAKOUSKI made an encouraging return to action after eight months off the track when fourth in a Group 2 here three weeks ago and could take the beating now dropping in class for Charlie Appleby. The four-year-old won a Group 2 in Meydan earlier in the year and can take this before enjoying another profitable winter in Dubai. Brunch has enjoyed a consistent season so far, winning three of his six starts, while Epic Hero didn't have a clear run when third in a Group 3 at this venue recently and could also go close.

ATR VERDICT: ASPIRATION is the most unexposed runner in the field after just three starts for Martyn Meade and could double her career tally under Tom Marquand. The three-year-old was successful on heavy ground at Yarmouth recently after a three-month break and could have more to offer back over 7f on her handicap debut. King's Knight only has one extra start to his name compared to the selection and caught the eye when second at Lingfield last month, while, of the more exposed contingent, recent Chelmsford third Flaming Spear narrowly appeals most.

Watch out for: KING'S KNIGHT (7)
