ATR VERDICT: When Master Tommytucker gets it right, as he did when a cosy 12-length scorer at Huntingdon earlier this month, he is a joy to watch bowling along from the front and must have a great chance in a race his handler has won six times in the last 10 years. However, the long home straight could allow the course-and-distance winner DASHIEL DRASHER to hunt him down late on and make a winning reappearance. Jeremy Scott's seven-year-old was only three and a half lengths adrift of RSA winner Champ on his only other completed start over fences and could have plenty more to come following wind surgery. Good Boy Bobby did little wrong when making a winning return at Bangor and has to be respected, while Commanche Red was bitterly disappointing at Ascot last month but shouldn't be underestimated in first-time cheekpieces, with the pick of his 2019/20 form putting him in the mix here.

Top Tip: MASTER TOMMYTUCKER (4)

Watch out for: DASHIEL DRASHER (1)
