ATR VERDICT: A first-time visor didn't work for TIME AND MONEY last time as he was too free but he drops back to a mile now with cheekpieces fitted, as they had been when he was runner-up three times in a row on his previous outings. One of those creditable efforts was over this distance and he can slot into a handy position from a low draw. Ecliptic Moon was 40/1 when winning over course and distance three weeks ago and, although without Sam Ewing's 7lb claim on this occasion, he can race handily as well and could be capable of further progress. Jack Berry House went close twice before winning cosily here last week. He will probably be played late and is a major player with a good claimer utilised to nullify a 4lb rise in the ratings.

Watch out for: JACK BERRY HOUSE (7)
