ATR VERDICT: Son Of Red arrives on the back of a 1m4f Flat success at Southwell and warrants respect on his NH debut, while Ludlow third State Crown and Sir Charles Punch, another switching from the level, also merit consideration. However, CASTEL GANDOLFO sets a decent standard on his three-parts of a length second at Musselburgh earlier in the month and he gets the vote to go one better.

ATR VERDICT: CEDAR HILL has impressively notched a 2m1f Kelso double and, with this step back up in trip unlikely to pose any problems, he looks capable of defying a further 11lb hike in the ratings. Oscar Ceremony won twice for Stef Keniry earlier this year and Brian Ellison's inmate merits consideration on his stable/seasonal debut, while Do Not Disturb and Treshnish both have each-way claims.

ATR VERDICT: The 135-rated GETAROUND might be able to give weight and a beating to these rivals. He possibly didn't quite get home when fourth over 2m7f on soft ground at Lingfield last time, but that was still a fair effort (third won easily last weekend) and similar aggressive tactics could pay off under these conditions. Ask A Honey Bee also likes to get on with it and he rates the biggest threat, while Tupelo Mississippi is weighted to reverse Carlisle form with Le Cheval Noir.

ATR VERDICT: THE FERRY MASTER won with plenty in hand in a similar contest at Kelso three weeks ago and the unexposed seven-year-old merits the utmost respect once again today, despite a 9lb rise in the ratings. Oscar Robertson also arrives here on the back of a victory and he should go well once again, while Aye Aye Charlie and Court Dreaming complete the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: EPATANTE was highly progressive last season and she was an impressive winner of the Champion Hurdle when last seen in March. That was far from a vintage renewal of that contest but Nicky Henderson's mare is still the one they all have to beat this afternoon. Sceau Royal has appreciated the return to hurdles in recent months, albeit at a lower level, and it would be no surprise to see him in the mix once again. Last year's winner Cornerstone Lad should not be underestimated, while Silver Streak and Ribble Valley also merit places the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: Presentandcounting was a winner of a 'jumpers' bumper' here in February and arguably sets the standard on what he has shown so far over hurdles, but will need to settle much better here and his free-going nature makes him vulnerable. Therefore, a chance is taken on EWOOD PARK, who was keeping on well at Wetherby on his hurdles debut and looked set for a place on the podium behind the talented Third Time Lucki before unseating his rider at the last. The long home straight here can bring his stamina into play and he could hunt down the aforementioned Presentandcounting late on. Fostered Phil completes the shortlist following wind surgery, with the form of his early exposure to hurdles at Hexham encouraging.

ATR VERDICT: Pym's victory over Imperial Aura last December now looks an incredibly smart piece of form and he left a pair of disappointments in hot contests in the past when making a winning return in a Listed chase at Sandown last month. He had If The Cap Fits comfortably held on that occasion and could have a big say here. However, it may be worth taking a chance on THE BUTCHER SAID, who would arguably have finished a lot closer to the impressive The Big Breakaway at Cheltenham earlier this month if not for stumbling at the second-last fence. His jumping isn't for the faint hearted at times, but a mark of 139 appears there for the taking and the form of his novice chase appearances this season looks rock solid. Takingrisks is 4lb higher than when landing this last season and has to be respected following wind surgery, while Whatmore remains unexposed over fences and can't be left off the shortlist.
