EXPERT VIEW: ICENI QUEEN is hard to look past in this 2yo fillies race. She wasn't given a hard time and finished well when fourth in a novice at Chelmsford on debut; she's middle-distance bred, but effective over 1m and a big filly with plenty to come. Also on the shortlist is strong debut performer Ziata, who produced a solid effort when runner-up in a Haydock novice over 7f and looks promising. Third best could be Moon Is Up, who tired badly after being made too much use of when well beaten on debut at Leicester; she's bred to want 10f and moves as though that trip will suit but could improve enough to make the frame regardless.
