EXPERT VIEW: Izz'nt She Hot, already accustomed to Tapeta after a short-head defeat in a novice at Southwell, is on a workable opening mark for her handicap debut and must go well but LIKENESS, a solid two length second of five over CD on her handicap bow last time, could prove too strong and is the percentage call. Parisian Scholar a five length CD winner in early October represents last year's winning stable and has to be feared even if a poor run last time off a 6lb rise has to be forgiven, while Swift Winds hasn't been disgraced in two handicap runs and can't be discounted

EXPERT VIEW: The four with racecourse experience have all shown a degree of promise, with Quilt showing most on her debut when 4th of nine at Kempton, but they don't stand out as obvious winners in waiting, so a chance is taken that FASHION PEOPLE, a Mehmas filly from the powerful Gosden yard, can kame a winning debut. Heart Beats True and Emilia Casanova both achieved a similar level on their respective debuts, with the former just preferred as she didn't get the best of draws and looks capable of better

Expert View: Improved to win a handicap by 2 1/4l off 69 here last time; trained by a top course trainer; effective at 5f, acts on all-weather; a little erratic but could be on the up.

★★★★★ (Forecast 9/4)

Notes:

EXPERT VIEW: BONNIE'S BOY improved on recent handicap efforts to open his account last time over CD and, now that he's rediscovered the kind of levels shown as a juvenile, is worth keeping on side despite the rise in grade and the 8lb extra for that ready win. Paul Midgley has won two of the last five runnings of this race and is represented by Lethal Nymph who arrives in fine form and was placed the last twice he ran here (over 6f and 5f). The six-year-old is feared most. Bright, a no-show in the Ayr Bronze Cup last time, can get back on track in this less deep race returned to a track that suits well and Mark Loughnane's CD winner could reward each way support

EXPERT VIEW: Top-weight CORAMENTO looks a solid option in an othwerwise tight affair. David Thompson's four-year-old won over CD last time and should be tough to master off just a 3lb rise. Concert Boy should put up a decent challenge having gone well over a mile the last twice but even better over 7f prior to that, and a return to this shorter trip should see him to better effect. Urban Dandy has rediscovered his mojo after two poor runs off a layoff since Spring and has some solid form at this level at the track. He can get in the mix and challenge for a place at least

EXPERT VIEW: UNCLE SAM has been ticking along fine without tearing up trees of late but has not had his conditions to show best and now back here over his ideal trip of 6f can land a second career success. David Thompson's gelding is now back to his last winning mark, achieved over CD last Ocotber, after just five runs since despite being placed three times. Yellow Lemons landed a second place over CD out of the blue last time when dropped back to 6f for the first time and that looked no fluke. She looks capable at this basement level and can go close again. Colour Code, smooth winner over CD lat time in a Classified event, is highly repsected but at likely more rewarding odds Yorkshire Glory is preferred to fill out the places having improved for the drop back to 6f last time, a trip that he'd not tried since his opening three runs

EXPERT VIEW: BIBENDUM was denied by a nose last time here over 5f and can gain compensation returned to 6f, the trip of his sole win to date. Julie Camacho's gelding was placed over CD three runs back despite a poor draw, and, off the same mark, looks the one to beat. Masterclass, about a length behind the selection last time, and a pound better off today, finished to really good effect then and should also improve a bit for the step up in trip, a distance over which three of his four wins have come. Paul Midgley's six year old is feared most, just ahead of Superior Council who has knocked on the door over CD the last twice and has every chance of doing so again
