Jockey Colours: Black, white spots, black sleeves, white cap Expert View: Improved when second, beaten a short head in a 7f novice at Southwell last time. Trainer is in form and she is effective at 7f, bred for further, acts on all-weather; open to improvement on handicap debut. ★★★★★ (Forecast 11/8)					Notes:

EXPERT VIEW: Izz'nt She Hot, already accustomed to Tapeta after a short-head defeat in a novice at Southwell, is on a workable opening mark for her handicap debut and must go well but LIKENESS, a solid two length second of five over CD on her handicap bow last time, could prove too strong and is the percentage call. Parisian Scholar a five length CD winner in early October represents last year's winning stable and has to be feared even if a poor run last time off a 6lb rise has to be forgiven, while Swift Winds hasn't been disgraced in two handicap runs and can't be discounted

EXPERT VIEW: TRULY SPECIAL can raise her game dropped back to 7f having found a mile a bit too far on both her handicap runs to date. She still managed to get placed at Leciester last time despite tiring late and much better is expected back at 7f. Madame Koko can build on a fair handicap bow last time over an inadequate 6f and returned to 7f should prove a serious player, along with Athenian Spirit, who improved for the addition of cheekpieces last time getting his act together on his second handicap run when a fine 2nd of 12 at Wolverhampton, and should be thereabouts again

EXPERT VIEW: MOLINARI rarely fails to give best and sprung back to form last time after a rare blip prior (possibly needed the run off a break) when placed over CD, beaten little over a length. Mark Todhunter's gelding goes well here, with two wins and four places from eight runs, including when winning this event last year off a 2lb lower mark. He should go well again and challenge for top honours. Runninsonofagun has been in the top four on six of his last seven runs and is interesting tried over 1m2f for the first time, as he's been flattening out over a mile but perhaps is just lacking a gear at the trip and earlier in his career looked like this trip may suit. He could be worth chancing, while Without Compromise is in flying form after a win and a close second over CD the last twice and has to be feared

EXPERT VIEW: The four with racecourse experience have all shown a degree of promise, with Quilt showing most on her debut when 4th of nine at Kempton, but they don't stand out as obvious winners in waiting, so a chance is taken that FASHION PEOPLE, a Mehmas filly from the powerful Gosden yard, can kame a winning debut. Heart Beats True and Emilia Casanova both achieved a similar level on their respective debuts, with the former just preferred as she didn't get the best of draws and looks capable of better

EXPERT VIEW: BE PATIENT showed enough on debut when a good thrid of seven in a decent CD maiden last month to suggest he won't be long in breaking his duck, and this looks a good opportunity to do it. Ed Bethell's colt is clear pick with Emtinan feared most of the others with experience, having gone well against some exciting rivals on debut, and Glory Of The Seas, an expensive Roger Varian recruit and son of Sea The Stars, heads the list of newcomers to watch, with the Gosden's Heraldry, a Kingman colt, also requiring a close watch in the market

★★★★★ (Forecast 9/4)

Notes:

EXPERT VIEW: BONNIE'S BOY improved on recent handicap efforts to open his account last time over CD and, now that he's rediscovered the kind of levels shown as a juvenile, is worth keeping on side despite the rise in grade and the 8lb extra for that ready win. Paul Midgley has won two of the last five runnings of this race and is represented by Lethal Nymph who arrives in fine form and was placed the last time he ran here (over 6f and 5f). The six-year-old is feared most. Bright, a no-show in the Ayr Bronze Cup last time, can get back on track in this less deep race returned to a track that suits well and Mark Loughnane's CD winner could reward each way support

EXPERT VIEW: Top-weight CORAMENTO looks a solid option in an otherwise tight affair. David Thompson's four-year-old won over CD last time and should be tough to master off just a 3lb rise. Concert Boy should put up a decent challenge having gone well over a mile the last twice but even better over 7f prior to that, and a return to this shorter trip should see him to better effect. Urban Dandy has rediscovered his mojo after two poor runs off a layoff since Spring and has some solid form at this level at the track. He can get in the mix and challenge for a place at least

EXPERT VIEW: UNCLE SAM has been ticking along fine without tearing up trees of late but has not had his conditions to show best and now back here over his ideal trip of 6f can land a second career success. David Thompson's gelding is now back to his last winning mark, achieved over CD last October, after just five runs since despite being placed three times. Yellow Lemons landed a second place over CD out of the blue last time when dropped back to 6f for the first time and that looked no fluke. She looks capable at this basement level and can go close again. Colour Code, smooth winner over CD last time in a Classified event, is highly respected but at likely more rewarding odds Yorkshire Glory is preferred to fill out the places having improved for the drop back to 6f last time, a trip that he'd not tried since his opening three runs

EXPERT VIEW: BIBENDUM was denied by a nose last time here over 5f and can gain compensation returned to 6f, the trip of his sole win to date. Julie Camacho's gelding was placed over CD three runs back despite a poor draw, and, off the same mark, looks the one to beat. Masterclass, about a length behind the selection last time, and a pound better off today, finished to really good effect then and should also improve a bit for the step up in trip, a distance over which three of his four wins have come. Paul Midgley's six year old is feared most, just ahead of Superior Council who has knocked on the door over CD the last twice and has every chance of doing so again

1-2-3 Selections:

- 1: BIBENDUM (3)
